4. How do you go about figuring out if an area of your life is in alignment with God’s plan for you?

6. What does it look like to “be real” and authentic about your own faith journey with your small group while at the same time being age appropriate?

ASSIGNMENT 2

Put It Into Practice:

- Take an inventory of your life. Write down:
 - Areas where you feel aligned with God's plan for your life.
 - Write down areas where you sense God inviting you to move toward His plan for your life in this area.
 - A few areas to explore:
 - Relational: Am I living servant leadership to those closest to me?
 - Ethical: Am I living ethically in my vocational and personal life?
 - Purity: Am I living a lifestyle as a single, dating, or married person that lines up with Jesus' guidance on relational purity?
 - Financially: Am I living within my financial means (not going into debt) and practicing generosity (working toward giving money away to the causes closest to God's heart)?
- Create a plan (think daily/weekly rhythm) to engage with God. This could include:
 - Daily time reading a section of the Bible. (Note: If you're new to reading the Bible, start with the book of Mark, and then move to the book of Acts).
 - Daily time of prayer:
 - Spend 5-10 minutes talking with God. Start with sharing with God a few things you're thankful for. Move to a few things that you'd like to ask God for either for you or others. Spend a few minutes in silence listening to any way's God might prompt you. Finish by talking with God about anything going on in your day).
 - Weekly Community Group gathering.
 - Weekly worship gathering at Real Life.
